

DMD recommended changes to the video accessibility portion of the accessibility standards:

<http://www.oa.mo.gov/itsd/cio/standards/ITGS0003.pdf>

Note changes/additions in bold

Pages 14-15

Captioning, video description or other equivalent alternatives for multimedia presentations, excluding live Webcasts, shall be provided in synchrony with the presentation, and in accordance with the following:

to

Captioning, video description or other equivalent alternatives for multimedia presentations, excluding live Webcasts, shall be provided in synchrony with the presentation as established in Paragraphs (c) and (d) under Video and Multimedia Products.

and drop the three bullets

Pages 18-19

(c) Training and information video and multimedia presentations/products, excluding television broadcasts and live Webcasts, that contain speech or other audio information necessary for the comprehension of the content, shall also include a text transcript or closed captioning.

Remove the three bullets under (c).

(d) Training and information video and multimedia presentation/products, excluding television broadcasts and live Webcasts, that contain visual information necessary for the comprehension of the content, shall be video-described (provide audio descriptions that are synchronized with the original audio) in accordance with the following schedule:

Keep the three bullets under (d).